EL-ROAT BOAT GETTING OFF COAST

ELOPING MILLIONAIRE AND BRIDE FORGIVEN

Porter H. Adams of Brookline and his bride, whose elopement is at once forgiven by the young aviator's mother.

A mother's forgiveness today featured the romantic elopement of Porter H. Adams, twenty-two, Brookline millionaire, who once built an airship to fly across the Atlantic, and his bride, Irene McNeill Gourlay, twenty-one, of Toronto, Can., who are now at the Copley-Plaza.

"You'll have to realize you're a man now," said Mrs. Charles A. Adams to her son, after she had told the young couple that she would forgive them for speeding away in an automobile to Springfield, Vt., yesterday and being married by Rev. J. R. Beardslee.

"My mother's attitude came as a surprise to me," said Porter Adams today. "I expected a little row, but she was very nice about it. She seemed a bit dazed at the suddenness of our marriage, but I think it was more at the method of the marriage than because it had taken place."

"She knows that I am a somewhat erratic sort of chap, and that I am liable to do anything. She also knows that I am the oldest surviving major-general of the American Civil War, and is the father of Rear Admiral Osterhaus, retired, U. S. N. I sent this message to America through the United States press."

Thrills and excitement are going to continue to feature the married life of the eloping couple, according to plans they were making today.

Already Adams has started to build an airship to go to, in which they will fly up and down the Atlantic coast whenever they get tired of speeding through the country in a cigar-shaped racing car. He is also building at the plant of the Adams-Adams company on Cambridge street, where he is, known as chief engineer, but doesn't spend many hours of his time.

This airship, according to the plans of Adams, won't be exactly a Zeppelin, but it will be the largest flying boat in the United States. It will have a wing spread of 150 feet and a cabin in which they will live when the airship is resting on the water. He already has completed a model of this craft, before his elopement, and all that has to be done now will be to build the airship.

"We want to get lots of thrills and excitement in our married life," said Adams. "And we are going to get them."

Red Sox Get World's Series Cash

BIG MONEY SPLIT UP TODAY

Manager Bill Writes Out Checks
Giving Players Their Shares
in the World's Series Coin

By JOHN W. MORAN, JR.

Having nothing more nor less than the matter of dividing up more than $97,000 with twenty other baseballists on his mind, Manager Bill Carrigan arose early today and vented his way to Fenway Park. At noon Carrigan gathered with the boys and slipped them the where-withal to purchase gasoline and grease for their machines this winter.

Manager Bill had the check which the commission gave him in his coat. Today he drew checks for the different players and passed them out. Already the club had held a meeting on the subject of splitting the money. Each of the regulars had been voted a full share. Some had been voted half shares, or even thirds and quarters. Fourteen of the men voted a share to Eddie Riley. That check was made out and sent to the former catcher.

With the check goes the best wishes of the players, for there never has been a more popular manager of a ball club than Eddie Riley. Others who figured in the cut are Doc Green, Jerome Kelly and Secretary Johnny Lusk.

The Red Sox players who received a full share each got a check for $2,250.88. The players received more this year than they did in 1915. After the World's Series last fall there was $144,390.25 to divide among the Red Sox and Phillies. The four games in which the players share this year brought them the fancy sum of $465,127.45.

The twenty-three members of the Dodgers will each get $2,553.47.

HINDENBURG WOULD "BEAT NAPOLEON"

Dulburg, Germany, Oct. 12.—"Tell my friends in the United States that Van Hindenburg is the world's greatest general. He would have beaten Napoleon the first day of the war."

Major-General Oettershaus, 84, who claims to be the oldest surviving major-general of the American Civil War, and is the father of Rear Admiral Osterhaus, retired, U. S. N. I sent this message to America through the United States press.

London Paper Says Wilson Is Seeking German Votes

London, Oct. 12.—President Wilson is making a strong bid for the pro-German vote, says the Chronicle in commenting upon the American note refusing to bar German submarines from United States waters.

"On no other theory is it possible to understand the tone of the reply," the Chronicle states. The editorial continues:

"This is a position which this country cannot accept even for the all important purpose of advancing Wilson's candidacy for a second term in the White House. If the American government chooses to invite German submarines to frequent the American coasts America must keep her own submarines out of the way if accidents are to be avoided."

GIRL'S VERDICT AGAINST PASTOR SET ASIDE

Judge Morton in the United States District Court today set aside the verdict of the jury which awarded Miss Laura L. Johnson of Minneapolis a verdict of $5,250 in her suit for breach of promise to marry Charles Chase Wilson of Boston.

The verdict was set aside on Wilson's motion for a new trial on the ground that no engagement between the minister and Miss Johnson was "publicly announced or generally understood."

Arguments on the motion to set aside the jury's verdict were heard some time ago by Judge Morton, and his decision was announced today.

DRAFT OF MILLION MEN EXPECTED IN ENGLAND

ARMY PLAN PROPOSED BY IRISH

Speech of Lloyd-George Taken to Indicate Drastic Measures by Britain in Securing New Troops

London, Oct. 13.—A more drastic application of conscription in England and a probable attempt to extend it to Ireland are seen today in War Secretary Lloyd-George's speech in Commons last night.

The War Secretary's statement that there is no doubt about the country's manpower and resources, but that it is difficult to get at them under present conditions, is taken to indicate a complete change of program on the part of the government.

Lloyd-George's words are believed to show that no time will be lost in the raising of 1,000,000 men that the government feels it is necessary to continue the war successfully.

Lloyd-George was reported to have stated that the Irish Nationalists desired to be treated on the same basis as the conscripts with regard to conscription.

A Dublin dispatch to the Irish News today said that Henry Bruce, the Irish Secretary for Ireland, had agreed with Lord Wimborne, that conscription for Ireland now would be neither feasible nor wise.

I. N. S. REFUSES TO ALTER NEWS FOR ENGLAND

New York, Oct. 13.—The following cable dispatch has been received in this city: London, Oct. 10.

William Randolph Hearst, New York City: Beg for best reasons possible to say that situation depends absolutely on your personal action. Suggest cabling personal guarantee for non-garbling by anyone under pain dismissal and publication all dispatches exactly as received, adding as result personal investigation offenders being discharged. Hopeful of result.

(Signed) HARRIS.
A reply was sent by Mr. Hearst, as follows: October 12.

W. W. Harris, Representative of International News Service, Waldorf Hotel, London: I will apologize for nothing, retract nothing, alter nothing. The act of the English censor is wholly unjust and unjustifiable. I believed at first that their attitude was based on some actual error of importance in our news service. But I found on careful investigation that the couple of items on which they based their claim were so trivial as to prove the claim absurd and insincere.

I am convinced that the exclusion of the International News Service is not due to any delinquency on its part or on the part of the Hearst papers, but is due to the independent and wholly truthful attitude of the Hearst papers in their news and editorial columns.

Therefore, I have nothing to retract or alter in the smallest degree. On the contrary, I wish to assure the English censorship and the English government that the Hearst publications will continue to pursue the same independent American course that they have been pursuing, with redoubled conviction of the truth, justice, propriety and patriotism of that course.

Instead of discharging editors, I would rather raise their salaries wherever I find that they have honestly and earnestly endeavored to sift the exact facts out of the mass of misrepresentations which the English censors impose upon this country.

The only obligation of our American institutions is to our American people, and it is our firm policy and fixed purpose to print, not the things which the English government desires printed in this country, but the things which the American people require for their accurate information and patriotic guidance.

I am proud to have our American publications take their place with our American institutions on the roll of honor which the English blacklist constitutes; and I will take a personal pleasure in giving our readers and clients the most complete information of the utmost truth and value, and in getting it from more trustworthy sources than the biased and bigoted English censorship affords.

(Signed) WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST.

STRENGTHEN REPORT OF RAIDER OFF COAST

New York, Oct. 13.—Officials at the Brooklyn Navy Yard said today that no United States submarines were known to be in the vicinity of the spot where the British reported seeing an underwater boat, so that chances of an American submarine having been mistaken for a commerce raider are slight.

SET OF RAIDERS IS JOINING TO AMERICA

Several raids on this side of the Atlantic. It was learned in Washington dispatches that information had reached both England and France that several groups of submarine raiders would leave Germany shortly, and for this side to make an organized attempt to halt and sink munition and supply ships. These vessels will operate in two and three to meet the problem growing out of the fact that hereafter all Anglo-French merchantmen will be armed "for defense."

In order to meet the problem it is expected in Washington that certain naval and military units will be sent from ports south of Nantucket. A mile relief will be provided for many of the vessels. It is expected that the fleet of the United States will be in force off northern England and the British coast will be made effective.

WASHINGTON ANALYST. It is realization of these probable developments that has caused the grave feeling of anxiety in Washington circles. There is no doubt that the line between cruiser warfare and submarine warfare is being blurred by the United States and submarine warfare. The United States will be broken off if they are renewed, in very minute.

And if a submarine torpedoes a merchant vessel, which has used its guns for defense, it may be hard to discover exactly whether the action was justifiable, especially if an American citizen should lose his or her life.

It is expected that Secretary Lansing will make another visit to Shadow Lawn to talk further with the President about the submarine situation. The effect that German submarine warfare has on American commerce now is being considered in the light of the sinking of the steamer Lusitania, a neutral vessel sailing between neutral ports. Although it is admitted that this country cannot protest in this case that being the duty of Holland, it is felt that it has a direct bearing on any course of action that may be planned.

SITUATION MORE CRITICAL. And although so far the raid of the U.S. and U.S. has brought no complications to this country, there is no attempt to disguise the realization that they have made the general submarine situation more critical in bringing the war directly to the doors of the United States.

Officials of the State Department and the United States coast guard today are holding conference to determine how coast guard vessels should conduct themselves in routine persons and ships, victims of the German submarine warfare.

A preliminary question has arisen as to whether a vessel torpedoed by a submarine should be sunk or not, and what course should the ship pursue if the submarine commander interfered and pointed that the cutter should go to the bottom without any attempt at being made.

Coast guard officials are inclined to the belief that the cutter should be sunk, and that the submarine should be sunk. It is expected that the cutter should be sunk, and that the submarine should be sunk.

The dash of a flotilla of United States destroyers from New England in Newport harbor yesterday and their mysterious operations along the coast continued to be one of the greatest causes of speculation today. It was reported early today that the destroyers, in addition to being ready to help any U.S. vessel, were searching for a submarine base and to have been severely punished on our coast. Newport officers would neither confirm nor deny.

But at most dispatches from Washington said that Secretary of the Navy, Josephus Daniels, had the United States destroyers that had been searching for many better submarines have been sent to the northern extremity of the United States coast.

This was reported as official information that our destroyers were looking for such a submarine base. It was also reported later from Newport that such a base had been discovered, but no confirmation followed.

Seven destroyers went from Newport yesterday, but dispatches from there today said that fifteen of these big submarines were out, and that ten were being held in the harbor for emergency duty in case of submarine attacks against merchant ships or in case American neutrality was threatened.

DOUBT MISION. The same dispatch said that the mission of the destroyers patrolling the coast was a double one—protecting our neutrality and saving passengers or crews from any more merchant vessels that a submarine might sink.

Newport understood at this time that all the reserve torpedo flotilla at Charleston, S. C., would be called to the coast.

POLICE FIRING ON STRIKERS AT BAYONNE

This unusual photograph was taken at the beginning of a battle between the oil strikers and the police, in which the street was crowded with the rifle and deliberately pumped high-power bullets into a crowd of strikers and sympathizers. "Shoot to get them," are the orders of the policemen.

transmitted to Newport by the steamer "Horn." The submarine was not identified, beyond its nationality, but it was estimated in Newport to be the "Horn."

About the time this startling message was flashed by the "Horn" British destroyers, which have been keeping in Boston harbor ever since the U.S. raid on the British shipping last Sunday, were venturing to sea again.

Meanwhile, British war vessels were patrolling Bay State coast waters, ready to protect the shipping and to attempt an offensive against submarines.

At the same time a flotilla of eleven United States destroyers, which had been sent out from Newport at the request of the British Admiralty, was cruising in the lower bay.

The British Admiral yesterday afternoon, was cruising in the lower bay, and was believed to be directly connected with the submarine base.

The Scott Wrecking Company at New London pushed the sea-going tug Alert out last night on a mysterious trip. It was admitted at New London.

that it was out to pick up any debris left by the U.S. The plot of the Russian destroyer "Horn," which arrived at Boston today from Havana, Spain, reported that at least one British cruiser was patrolling off the Bay State coast.

It was reported, too, that several British destroyers were with the cruiser. One of the destroyers, the story said, was running a course from Cape Cod on the mouth to Cape Ann on the north, but carefully keeping outside the three-mile limit.

Encouraged by these steps taken by the British Admiralty to protect its merchant shipping, the agents of British lines felt warranted in sending their heavily-laden freighters out to sea.

The Leyland liner Memphis sailed early last evening for Massachusetts. The great city, it left the day after the U.S. raid, followed the Atlantic, loaded with horses and war munitions for St. Nazaire, France.

The Kaiser, chartered to the France-Canada line and likewise loaded with horses and war munitions, sailed from the Maine docks for St. Nazaire and Genoa. Her destination was figured at the cost of $100,000.

The Lord Cromer, under charter to the Canada line, was slated to sail today, also the Wilson Line Mariner.

The British Ambassador at Washington notified the British consul at Boston that their ships could leave Newport safely.

One of the high naval authorities at Newport said today, speculating on the submarine base question, "We would be very much interested to discover a submarine base. It is not likely that such a base is established here, where it could easily be broken up, thereby handicapping seriously the craft department. If it is unreasonable to suppose that a submarine base is here, it is equally unreasonable to suppose that a submarine base is here."

The American fleet, it was expected, would be in the bay today, ready to meet any submarine that might appear.

As yet no move has been made to send the club to a new location. When they were a year ago it was suggested that no location be given them. It may be that they still entertain such ideas.

Having no ticket money to return President Landon and his office force, they will have to find a way to do so. The season is over. Practically everything has been closed up so far as the club affairs are concerned and within a very short time President Landon will be to clear the club for a well-earned rest.

As yet he isn't prepared to make an announcement as to who will succeed him as manager of the club. But Landon, Heinie Wagner and Jack Barry still continue as candidates with the possibility of any of them being chosen.

The time has now arrived for the annual sale of the winning book. As yet Mr. Landon hasn't chosen any of the winners. It is felt that he will choose the winner of the book, and that statement it is believed that he will choose the winner of the book.

KATSE FIRM AGAINST MOVE FOR PEACE, KATSE DECLARES

By WILLIAM BAYARD HALE, Staff Correspondent of the International News Service.

Berlin, (Wireless) Oct. 12.—An assertion that Ambassador Gerard is carrying a message from the Kaiser to President Wilson regarding peace may be dismissed as utterly fantastic.

On the fact that the Kaiser is now constantly at one of the other fronts, neither Mr. Gerard nor any other of the ambassadors has seen the Kaiser for a long time.

ONLY AT ALLIES.

The fact is that no German official at this time would dream of making any such statement to the German people for an instant, let alone to the world.

The Russian campaign everywhere has collapsed, and the German offensive against the Russian front has been completely shattered.

WAR SUMMARY

The allies have made a tremendously strong attack against the German lines on the Somme—and have failed to gain.

Whether this means that the Somme conflict, like the battle of Verdun, has reached the stage where only small and costly gains are possible—in other words, has come to a standstill—can only be revealed by later fighting.

But the fact remains that for the first time since the beginning of the Somme defensive the Germans have met a major offensive and held it helpless.

The French had made a successful thrust north of Chaumont, making a considerable gain there, two or three days ago. The British at the same time launched a general attack along their quarter-circle line toward Bapaume. The British made a small, uniform advance along their whole line, and this apparently brought them against strongly prepared German defensive works.

Then a tremendous night attack was set afoot on the narrow sector between Morval and Bouchavesnes, logical point for a further allied advance. The first assault was made in the evening, and there were six strong attacks in all before the morning, when the charges ceased. "Our positions were maintained completely," said Berlin, and neither London nor Paris claims any gain hereabouts.

By a series of prods at strategic points, the Teutons have driven into retreat the Rumanian army along the whole Transylvanian front, it is announced today. Lloyd George in Parliament says that the Teutons are concentrating to crush Rumania, and that everything possible to aid that small nation will be done.

There is constant fighting in the region west of Salonica. The Bulgars for the present appear to have checked the small Serbian advances. The situation has not attained any importance as yet, however.

The Italians claim further gains toward Trieste. This campaign is still obscure as to results attained, but it is worth watching.

U. S. AUTO TRADE WITH CHILE GROWS

By International News Service.

Washington, Oct. 12.—The European war has afforded the United States a splendid chance to increase its automobile exports to Chile more than twentyfold in two years. In 1915 the country exported $4,180 worth of automobiles to Chile. In 1916 the figure was $24,488. Exports from Boston, France, Germany, Great Britain and Italy fell from $15,000 in 1915 to $7,485 in 1916.

GREEK PRES ITALIANS NOW 10 MILES FROM TRIESTE

London, Oct. 12.—The entente is reported preparing to grant recognition to the Greek revolutionists. Financial support will be given the rebel leader, M. Venizelos, former Premier of Greece, to raise an army which will join the French, British, Russians and Serbians on the Macedonian front, according to private dispatches reaching here.

This offer of cash has been tentatively tendered to King Constantine, but the emperor displayed no inclination of accepting. Meanwhile the revolutionary army is being recruited in a large degree and is being drilled prior to leaving for the front.

The entire Venetian provisional government is likely to be recognized as the ruling force in Greece, which has little prospect, its every warship, fort and railway, telegraph and telegraphic systems, in the hands of the Venetians.

The Venetians are preparing to establish a provisional capital at Mytilene, it is reported. General Zimovrat has been named Minister of War in the revolutionary cabinet.

The battleships Kilkis and Lemnos and the armored cruiser Dardano, which Rear Admiral D'Arville du Poutier permitted Greece to retain, are being dismantled of their guns and two-thirds of the crew of each has been mustered out of the service.

M. Venizelos, whom the tide of war has turned into a sovereign with greater powers than the monarch of Greece, in a speech at Salonica, said: "The Greek islands are all prepared for the mobilization which soon will be ordered."

"The constitution must be revised if we have to march without Athens. We will fight the Bulgarians."

British Reply on Blacklist Near

Washington, Oct. 12.—The State Department has been informed officially that the British reply to the American protest against the blacklisting of American commercial interests may be expected soon.

The protest among officials is that the reply will be unsatisfactory. It is supposed that neither the State Department's foreign trade adviser nor the American firm informally with Sir Richard Crawford, adviser of the British embassy, are in favor of the British reply.

Representations to Great Britain have been made by many names removed from the blacklist. This fact is regarded by officials as indicating that the British answer will be unsatisfactory, and will cost the American representations. The State Department will not discuss what action this government will take if the reply is unsatisfactory, but it is believed President Wilson has decided to take any necessary action by law to put into effect the retaliatory legislation passed by Congress.

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISONS FROM THE LIVER

Everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it, before breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed clean, almost every morning, to prevent its sponge-like pores from clogging with indigestible material, sour bile and poisonous toxins, says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, turned tongue, nasty breath or stomach becomes rancid, it's your liver. Bloating skin, watery complexion, watery eyes, all denote liver uncleanliness. Your liver is the most important, also the most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function or how to release the dammed-up poisons, bile and toxins. Most folks resort to violent cathartics, which is a dangerous, salivating chemical which can only be used occasionally because it accumulates in the tissue, also attacks the bones.

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the poisonous, indigestible material, the poisons, sour bile and toxins, muddy cleaning, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting new food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate does not restrict the diet like calomel, because it cannot salivate, for it is harmless and you can eat anything afterwards. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, and any pharmacist will sell you. Exports from Boston, France, Germany, Great Britain and Italy fell from $15,000 in 1915 to $7,485 in 1916.

PRIVATE CLARK OF HOLYOKE RELEASED, PUT OUT OF ARMY

Holyoke, Oct. 12.—Congressman Allen Treadwell of Brockbridge, in Holyoke today, has received a telegram from Adjutant-General McCain of the War Department, stating that Hugh Clark, the Holyoke private of Company D, Second Regiment, sentenced to six months' confinement at Fort Smith, has been released and discharged from the service.

The dispatch states that General Funston had been notified that no word had been received from him; also that Hugh Clark would have to pay his own way home.

Clark was tried by a court-martial on September 10 on charges of writing to a Holyoke newspaper, which published the letter, that the food given to the soldiers on the front was inadequate and was insufficient in quantity. Clark reiterated his charges at the trial when testifying in his own behalf.

The case aroused much interest on the border, a great deal of testimony being submitted from men, officers, soldiers and officers. It was brought out that many of the soldiers had other men tents after eating a meal at the Soldier's kitchen. Several soldiers testified in corroboration of Clark's charges and several officers testified that they drew the

Tell What Kind of Brides They Want

Waterville, Me., Oct. 12.—The Rev. Dr. Arthur S. Phelps recently invited the young men of Waterville who want to marry to write to him expressing their views on the kind of girls they want. He has received many such letters.

Personal of these letters convinced Dr. Phelps that the young men of Waterville want a girl who is a true friend, a true companion, a true helpmate, and a true mother.

It was brought out in the testimony that a letter to the Holyoke newspaper was written, to be sent home in case a certain number of soldiers were killed, and to be sent home after breakfast and to be sent home at the camp.

FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE KEEPS ALL MY FAMILY WELL AND STRONG

Vigorous Letter Praising Father John's Medicine by New York Mother.

"Father John's Medicine is the only medicine I rely on when my boy has a cold or is feeling weak and run down," says Mrs. John Kelly of 101st St., New York City. "I have known the value of the medicine for five years and hope this word of praise may urge others to try it. I have taken it myself and it has done me a lot of good." (Signed) Mrs. John Kelly, N. Y. 101st St., New York City.

Many families keep Father John's Medicine because they know that it is a tonic and body-builder. It has more than fifty years of success. It is a safe family medicine because it does not contain alcohol or dangerous drugs in any form but is all pure and wholesome nourishment for those who are weak and run down. It gives them strength to ward off disease. Advertisement.

Dorothy Dodd SHOES

at the modest prices of $4.50 to $6.00

THE manufacturers of Dorothy Dodd are the largest makers of women's shoes in the world.

Into Dorothy Dodd Shoes they put all the economies that result from large production, together with the styles and refinements that come from a narrow price range specialization.

It is a fact that there is little to choose from in style between Dorothy Dodd Shoes and Custom Made shoes that are much higher priced.

In the narrow price range from $4.25 to $7.00 we show more than forty styles of Dorothy Dodd shoes. These five pictured are typical:

3. $5.00—Patent leather or tan kid lace boot with Cuban heel.

BOMB PLOT NOTE WILL LEAD TO ARRESTS

The mysterious note found placed in a tree near the entrance of the cathedral at St. Stephen's Church, Tuesday night, the contents of which are being carefully studied by the state police, will lead to the arrest of the guilty party or parties within twenty-four hours, according to Chief of Police Hebbard of the Washington police.

CONTAINS NO NAMES.
The note is of enough importance for the authorities to maintain great secrecy as to its contents. They say, however, that it contains no names, and that the general tenor is against the teachings of the Catholic Church.

A well-known Boston handwriting expert was called into the case late last night. He will examine the note for the purpose of comparing other notes which have been found where similar attempts to blow up churches have been made. The search for the culprits will be aided by the fact that the actual work was done by someone who was well acquainted with local conditions, but was not a tool for a lack of organized assistance, who have made their attempt throughout the State during the past year.

THREE SUSPECTS ELIMINATED.
Chief Hebbard has eliminated the three Italians who are now being held in the city, and has stated that he has nothing to do with the matter. He will examine the note for the purpose of comparing other notes which have been found where similar attempts to blow up churches have been made.

Portland, Me., Oct. 12.—After the convention of the Maine Woman's Suffrage Association had listened to an address by Owen Lovejoy of New York, on the referendum, Mrs. Hon. W. W. Walbridge of the Legislative Committee reported against assent to a referendum vote in Maine.

She asserted that the federal amendment resolution would be adopted within a year, after which it would only have to be adopted by the States of the Union. She believed that suffrage in Maine would be opposed by popular initiative. An attempt was made to submit it to a referendum.

Hughes on Labor

"There are some who regard organized labor as a source of strife and menace of difficulty; I regard it as a fine opportunity for the improving of the conditions of the workman."

CHARLES E. HUGHES

"The mission of labor organizations is one of the finest that any organization of men could guard."

CHARLES E. HUGHES

"He was the greatest friend of labor laws that ever occupied the governor's chair. He signed fifty-six labor laws [one third of all passed in the State since 1777], among them many of the best ever enacted in this or any other State. He urged the enactment of labor laws in his messages to the legislature, even going so far as to demand a labor law at an extra session. Human rights has a steadfast and sympathetic upholder in the new justice."

N. Y. LEGISLATIVE LABOR NEWS

These are not new opinions from the Republican candidate nor a recent estimate concerning him.

Hughes recorded his stand on labor not when a candidate for office, but as a governor of New York about to retire from politics to become a justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, where he expected to remain for the rest of his life.

They were the convictions of Charles E. Hughes on the eve of joining the highest tribunal in America, a court of last resort—at a time and in a situation when no possible advantage could accrue to him from any public expression.

No estimate of his fitness to fill the office of President with firmness, fairness and justice can be stronger than the above comment from a review of his career as governor by the organ of the New York State Federation of Labor.

He has no need to talk—he has done.

He said what he believed then—he believes what he said, now.

Therefore we support the candidacy and the convictions of Charles E. Hughes.

AN AMERICAN PAPER FOR THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

A Reply to the Malignant and Lying Accusations of the British Government That We Distort and Garble War News

THE action of the British government in ordering the British censorship to refuse the International News Service the use of both mail and cable facilities for the dispatch of news to America was excused in the fashion characteristic of the British government.

The British government states that the International News Service is debarr'd from the use of mails and cables because it has garbled and distorted the news. The British government not only lies, but knows that it lies.

The International News Service has been debarr'd from British mails and cables BECAUSE IT HAS REFUSED TO GARBLE AND DISTORT THE NEWS AS THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT WANTED THE NEWS GARBLED AND DISTORTED.

The unforgivable crime of the International News Service was that it would not willingly suppress true news, garble true news, distort true news AND DISSEMINATE FALSE AND LYING NEWS to suit the British censorship and the British government.

The unforgivable crime of the great newspapers owned and conducted by William Randolph Hearst—at whom this petty exhibition of official spite was aimed—is that they are American newspapers, honest newspapers, and newspapers which tell the truth without fear and without the least concern as to whether the truth is agreeable or not to the British government or to any other government on earth.

The International News Service has steadily done its best to get true news and to disseminate true news of the conditions in Europe.

The Hearst newspapers have steadily maintained a correct attitude of neutrality and have refused either to be imposed upon by the British government's campaign of falsehood, misrepresentations, braggadocio and concealment, or to take British applause or more substantial British pay to aid in spreading British propaganda in America.

For this, and for NO OTHER REASON, the British government has stooped to one of its characteristic acts of petty vindictiveness and to another of its hundreds of exhibitions of smug hypocrisy and downright falsehood to disguise the contemptible true reasons for its petty conduct.

In a country where, to the disgrace and shame of American journalism the agents of Great Britain found so many newspapers either ignorant enough to be imposed upon by British cajolery or falsehood, or corrupt enough to take British pay, it must have been a profound disappointment to the British government to find that its agents could neither cajole nor intimidate nor buy the most energetic news service in America, and the most powerful and widely read newspapers in America.

And the British government could neither intimidate nor corrupt the International News Service nor the Hearst newspapers, because both these great organizations are American institutions, serving their own people, loving their own country, jealous of the honor of their own land, concerned only with the welfare of their own nation—AMERICAN FIRST, AMERICAN LAST AND AMERICAN EVERY FOOT OF THE WAY!

That, good people, is the REAL reason and the ONLY reason why the International News Service is so vindictively hated by the British government, and why the British government stoops to a palpably petty and mean act to hide the real motives which made it anxious to muzzle this truth-telling American news-gathering organization.

Debarred from British mails and cables because we distorted news! God save the mark!

Why, there isn't ANY NEWS that reaches America by British mails or cables that has not FIRST BEEN DISTORTED OR GARBLED OR FALSIFIED by the British censors. Not a line; not a word.

The AMERICAN, with its countless public and private means of information, which are employed without regard to cost, and which are located in every country in the world, ought to know, and does know, more about the real conditions in Europe and the real happenings of the past two years in Europe than any private individual possibly can know.

And with that knowledge, we say to you, private Americans, that no people ever were so humbugged by press agency as you have been by the British official and secret press agencies, and that no such stream of misrepresentation, fiction and downright falsehood was ever poured out by any press propaganda as the huge flood of falsehood with which the British official and secret press agencies have inundated this country for two years past. And we shall now and here PROVE THIS INDICTMENT up to the hilt.

What are the general views most frequently exploited by the British government's newspaper organs in this country and held by the great mass of even intelligent Americans?

They are that Germany had secretly built up a great standing army, superior in numbers to the armies of its neighbors, by forced universal military training; that with this superior army Germany suddenly made war upon unprepared France, Russia and England; that the unprepared French armies were beaten back in the first few weeks of fighting and were almost miraculously saved by the help of the British army, which rallied at the Marne and defeated Von Kluck; that after two years of heroic resistance by French and British troops in the west, Great Britain has finally completed her preparations and for the past ten weeks has been destroying the German armies in a series of great victories; and finally, that under the pressure of British arms in France and of the British naval blockade, Germany is at the point of exhaustion and "squealing" for neutral intervention and peace without total destruction.

Is that not a fair summary of most Americans' beliefs? We feel sure that it is.

And yet there is hardly a word that is true. In July, 1914, just before war broke out, the French army numbered 90,000 more drilled, armed and thoroughly equipped men than did the German army. The French General Staff boasted that France had better artillery and a more effective artillery organization than did the Germans.

At the same time, the Russian army, drilled, armed and ready for the field, outnumbered the German army two-and-a-half times—the German army numbering roughly 1,000,000 men and the Russian army 2,500,000 men.

At the same time, the British army was less than one-third the size of the German army, but the British FLEETS were twice the strength of the German fleets, and the British navy had been mobilized and every ship stored with coal and ammunition and made ready for instant service thirty days BEFORE Austria sent her ultimatum to Serbia.

And yet the British propagandists in England and in America have so steadily run the changes upon German preparedness and German militarism and allied unpreparedness and lack of militarism that they have succeeded in making most Americans believe, in the face of the facts—and of the easily ascertainable facts—that the helpless and unarmed and wholly peace-loving allied were suddenly set upon by the secretly prepared and ferociously savage Germans!

As if any nation in Europe could secretly build up a huge military establishment without the knowledge of the Russian and French and English secret service agents and the full knowledge of all these governments!

Or as if the whole world did not know for years past that Germany and France and Russia and Austria and Italy were all maintaining huge military establishments and all compelling every able-bodied male to undergo service in the army.

Now as to the rescue of France at the Marne. The battle of the Marne was fought and won by French troops and by French troops only. There was not so much as a single regiment of British soldiers engaged in that great and momentous battle. When the French commander urged General French to bring up the remnants of his army, which had been chased clear across northern France in headlong rout, the British general replied that his horses and men were not in condition to move under forty-eight hours, and France could not wait forty-eight hours to be saved in that crisis. So France's own men moved forward and won the day.

Now, these facts are also easily ascertained and are absolutely true, yet, as you all know, the British press propaganda began that very day and has never ceased a moment since to boast of the battle of Marne as a British victory, aided somewhat by French support.

And just as there were less than thirty thousand British troops, all told, at Waterloo, and Waterloo was won by Blucher's Prussians and Wellington's Germans, and yet is still claimed as a great British victory by every British writer and speaker, so, we doubt not, a hundred years hence the Marne will still exist in English tradition and English tale and history as the battle in which the heroic British saved France.

And because the International News Service and the Hearst papers will not knowingly disseminate such lying braggadocio and meanly aid a mean attempt to rob France of her glorious credit, the British government tries to bar the avenues of information between Europe and America to the news agency and the newspapers that will not so stoop to falsehood and meanness.

For the past three months the British government has been desperately anxious to deceive both the English and the American people as to the present status of the war.

The British government needs huge loans. It must raise millions upon millions at home and in America. And to keep its credit good and its notes and bonds at a price it feels it absolutely necessary to make both Britain and America BELIEVE that Germany is at the point of collapse under the irresistible attacks of British arms and the strangle hold of British fleets.

So you have had pages upon pages of glowing accounts of allied victories on all fronts, and of German defeat, demoralization, exhaustion and despair.

Now, out of the plenitude of our public and secret information, we assure you, with the utmost certainty and with absolute truth, that nine-tenths of this so-called "news" is distorted, garbled or downright lying press propaganda, prepared in London, without the least regard to facts or truth.

We say to you that the Central Empires are neither exhausted nor defeated; that the Somme offensive has cost the British and French armies the loss of over half a million men, and has completely failed to break the German defence; that the Russian offensive has been stopped in its tracks with the awful loss of over one and a half million lives and the enormous exhaustion of Russia's by no means over-plentiful munitions supplies; that the Italian offensive aimed at Trieste has been stopped; that the Turks have driven the much-vaunted Russian offensive in Persia, which was to relieve the British in Mesopotamia and seize Constantinople in short order, over two hundred miles in full retreat; that the allied offensive in Macedonia is a dismal failure; and that the Rumanian armies in Transylvania and the Dobruja are being swiftly annihilated, and that within a few weeks, at most, Rumania will be as thoroughly wiped off the military map by Falkenhayn and Mackensen as was Serbia.

We say to you, with certain knowledge, that there is neither any shortage of man-power, of military supplies or of essential food supplies in Germany or in Austria, and that the spirit of the people and of the armies is high and confident and their purpose to fight until honorable peace is assured is absolutely and relentlessly determined.

And because we will not conceal these truths and will not lie to you and deceive you for the purpose of bolstering up British shaky credit and stimulating British slow recruiting, the British government bars the International News Service from British mail and cable facilities, and British censors mutilate every copy of the Hearst papers passing through their hands in order to keep the British people from reading the truth.

And to hide its real motives the same British government asserts that it is forced to this action because our American news service will not give the news correctly!

Now ask yourselves what your general impression of French men and French women was before the war—the impression conveyed to you by British press work.

In a general way did you not look upon Frenchmen as immoral, frivolous, fantastic, unreliable—voluble and excitable in war, good for a single wild attack, maybe, but lacking the steady valor of the heroic Briton—a kind of hybrid tiger, monkey and libertine? Is not that precisely the impression of France and Frenchmen that British press work gave most to you?

And have you not seen now, for two years, Frenchmen silently, valorously, stubbornly beating back the gigantic German assault—doing great deeds of heroism whereof the ages shall speak in admiration and saying never a word themselves, while the pages of each day's papers can scarcely hold the British brag over the comparatively cheap performances of the British armies? Well, there you have the ins and outs of British press propaganda.

Do you not remember how a few short years ago a British press propaganda held up the Belgians as blood-thirsty civilized savages, mutilating, torturing and killing the poor Congo negroes to extort millions of profit from the poor creatures' unpaid toil?

And now every Belgian, no matter whether he is a good man or the most worthless creature imaginable, is a radiant hero and a haloed saint!

Do you not remember how, for so many years, England hated Russia and feared above everything Russia's move upon India? And how during all these years you were carefully instructed that the Russian government was the most wicked and faithless and treacherous autocracy the world had ever seen, and the Russian empire was the gigantic menace of civilization and liberty in Europe?

And all at once we learn that the Czar is a heroic and high-minded sovereign, whose ideals are the liberty and civilization of Europe, and that the Russian people's noble mission is to rescue mankind from the curse of despotism and militarism!

Well, there you have THE BEST example of British press-agency—and Judas Iscariot and Ananias rolled in one and not equal it.

We—the most idealistic, intelligent, cultured, generous and free-headed mass of people ever grouped together in a mighty nation since time began—are pictured to the European mind, by the cunning press work of this English race of shilling-changers and shopkeepers, as a lean and hungry Yankee, who thrusts his food down his throat with his knife in one hand while his other is pocketing his host's spoils!

And there, we think, you have the final triumph of the most skillfully organized band of lying scribblers who ever took official pay for blackguarding and degrading the reputation and character of whatever people their government paymasters happened at the time to want dragged down in the estimation of the world.

To accomplish this end the British government has spent millions of dollars in sustaining its own press bureaus and in corrupting newspapers and other publications, as well as politicians and speakers in Holland, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Switzerland, Italy, Spain, Rumania, Greece, and above all—to our bitter shame be it said—in America.

And because the International News Service would not prostitute its functions to this shameful secret service, the vengeance of the British government is visited upon it, and because the Hearst newspapers could neither be cajoled nor intimidated nor bought to do the same shameful work, the British government hates them with a malignant hatred that knows no bounds.

For the hatred of the British government these American newspapers return scorn and contempt.

For the utmost that the British government can do to prevent the Hearst newspapers from obtaining and from printing the news of Europe we have a derision that hardly rises to the level of contempt.

That news we will obtain and that news we will print exactly as if the British government did not exist. This is an American newspaper, thank God, and not the paid lackey nor the willing bootlicker of any foreign government on earth.

The flag to which we owe our sole allegiance is no Union Jack. It is the Stars and Stripes the British once saw waving at Yorktown and at New Orleans.

The government which commands our lawful obedience is not the British government but the United States. For the honor of that flag and the sovereignty of that government the Hearst papers stand firm as the rock walls of the Palisades.

And there we will continue to stand, in spite of all that the impotent wrath of a vindictive ministry and a lying censorship can do or attempt to do.
